

EFFORT TO RUSH RECALL ELECTION FAILS; LIST SHRINKS AS FORGERIES ARE CHARGED

Supporters of Key To Ask Jury Probe Of Ouster Paper

Appeal to Boykin Seen When Publication of Signers Brings Protests From Scores; Manget To Aid Investigation.

OPPONENTS LOSE FIGHT FOR SPEED

Demand for Special Session of Council Today Is Beaten as Three Rescind Plea to Executive.

Publication of names alleged to have signed to the Key recall petition burst like a bombshell among citizens of the first five city wards Thursday night.

While cries of "forgery" were being made in every quarter of the first five wards, leaders of the recall in council attempted to force a special session of that body this afternoon to approve the rapidly shrinking petition and call a special election. The councilmanic maneuver failed.

While the recall leaders in council thus were organizing, so many protests were registered that the list of names beyond the required 4,997 signatures was dwindling dangerously near the border of failure.

No widespread were the charges of forgery and fraud from the second ward alone, that the success of the movement for a recall election was extremely doubtful Thursday night.

After obtaining the necessary 21 members of council to force an extra session to call a special election, recall leaders saw their hopes in that branch of the effort fail, when three councilmen summarily withdrew their support.

Telephones in the editorial department of The Constitution rang all night as the result of publication of the names. Citizens expressed indignation at use of their names, and in several instances, legal action was threatened against those who were responsible for the alleged forgeries.

Jury Inquiry Asked.

Mrs. L. T. Holloway, 72 Crumley street, a staunch supporter of Mayor Key, said she would ask Solicitor General John A. Boykin to make a grand jury investigation into the forging of her name on the petition.

"My name is listed among the signers," Mrs. Holloway said Thursday night. "I did not sign the petition and would not. I was a staunch supporter of Mayor Key in the campaign and I will support him every time he runs. I intend to see Solicitor General Boykin and demand that the grand jury take some action on this forging of my name and the forging of some of my friends' names."

From many of those calling came stories of efforts of circulators of the petition to obtain signatures through various ruses. Representing themselves as census takers, they demanded signatures, or, in the guise of circulators of a petition to "obtain lower water rates" they sought to persuade citizens to affix their signatures.

Luke Arnold, executive secretary of Mayor Key, late Thursday night charged that "the whole thing is reeking with fraud."

"It was conceived in iniquity," said Arnold, "and born in sin. To proceed, after such an exposure of fraud, would be a disgrace."

PARTY OPPONENTS OF HOOVER MEET

Leaders Assemble To Consider Means To Block Renomination.

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A "stop-Hoover" movement with Gifford Pinchot at its center became a possibility today and meanwhile supporters of Speaker Garner for the democratic presidential nomination made further efforts to curtail activities in his behalf.

Governor Pinchot discussed with Senators Borah, Idaho; Johnson, California; Cutting, New Mexico, and Nye, North Dakota, all republican independents, a campaign to prevent Mr. Hoover's renomination.

From these discussions came indications that the Pennsylvania republican was seriously considering entering the race. Both Borah and Johnson, who have been frequent opponents of Hoover's policies, have been mentioned as possible candidates. It was indicated that Pinchot also urged them to join the pre-convention contest, but received no promise.

On the democratic side of the picture, Representative Rayburn, democrat, Texas, urged Nebraska democrats to join Garner's cause out of the primary there and indicated the same procedure would be followed in California where a slate of delegates pledged to the speaker is under consideration. Rayburn is also seeking the withdrawal from the Georgia primary of Judge G. H. Howard, a Garner supporter.

The Texas representative, a leader of the Garner forces, reiterated today that the speaker was not an active candidate, but said he would take the nomination if offered.

This was taken to mean that Garner would not personally consent to filing in any primary, where consent was required, but would let the volunteer forces go ahead and place him in a strategic position in the event of a convention deadlock.

A lively contest had been contemplated in California between Garner and Roosevelt and possibly Smith, but the new move by the speaker's forces has, in the opinion of Roosevelt's friends, increased considerably the Empire State governor's chances on the Pacific coast.

Education Board Approves Salary Reduction in Budget

Teachers Expected To Receive Long Overdue Pay by Wednesday; Cuts of 10 and 16 Per Cent Voted.

Mayor James L. Key's expected approval of the 1932 budget of the Atlanta board of education today will set in motion the machinery of the school finance department so that teachers and other school employees will receive their long-overdue checks by next Wednesday.

Confronted by the ultimatum of Atlanta banks that they will not recognize any budget other than the one which comes absolutely within the allocation, members of the board of education Thursday afternoon adopted a sheet requiring a donation of 16 per cent of the salaries of all employees drawing more than $100 a month, and a donation of 10 per cent of salaries of $100 or less a month.

This action was taken in preference to a budget previously adopted which cut salaries only 10 per cent but provided for elimination of opportunity and night schools and other features of the system. The previous action was revoked on adoption of a motion to reconsider the budget.

Vote on the new budget was as follows:

Ayes: Lauder, Harrelson, Nelson, Bird, Fling, Sweet and Wilson, 5.

Nays: Slate, Davis and Penn, 3.

Mayor Key Thursday afternoon said he will approve any budget of the board which comes within the allocation by council of $2,946,755.85. "Controller" H. Graham West said that after the mayor passes on the budget today, work of preparing school pay rolls and issuing checks will be completed early next week so that checks will be delivered by Wednesday.

The 16 and 10 per cent budget was introduced in the school committee by Alderman E. A. Gilliam, chairman of council's school committee, following conferences in which support for the budget had been pledged by a majority of the board members. Under the board's action, necessary adjustments are to be worked out by the administrative department and the current expenditures committee.

The board of education went on record in adopting the budget as presented by Gilliam for the current expenditures committee, as "expressing in unequivocal terms its deep appreciation of the unselfish action of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' Association in subordinating their own rights to the welfare of the children of Atlanta by agreeing not to resist a 16 per cent donation in salary."

The budget resolution was submitted by the current expenditures committee, composed of E. R. Sweet, chairman; Frank R. Fling, Noah W. Baird, P. A. Whitehead, E. A. Gilliam and J. J. Harrelson and by J. H. Landers and Mrs. A. E. Wilson.

The board of education requested the mayor and general council to exert every possible effort to obtain and allocate to the school department, for salary accounts, sufficient money in cooperation with economies to be effected by the board, so that the board of education may be able to pay to the employees a sum that will bring down the donation of the school employees to an equality with that of other city departments.

Teachers are due their salaries for January and February, all school employees having been paid in full for 1931 salaries.

COMMONS VOTES BRITISH TARIFFS

Bill Imposing 10 Per Cent Duty on All Imports Passes, 442 to 62.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The swan song of British free trade was sung in the house of commons tonight when it passed, by a vote of 442 to 62, the bill imposing a 10 per cent duty on all imports into Great Britain with certain notable exceptions.

Isaac Foot, liberal minister of mines, and Sir Stafford Cripps, one of the labor party's leaders, made long and bitter speeches against the bill before it was given third and final reading.

With royal assent, the measure becomes effective as of next Tuesday. The bill had to be out of the way, he argued, before the bill was given third and final reading.

Cries of "resign! resign!" were shouted at Foot when, 45 minutes before the "guillotine" hour when the bill had to be out of the way, he arose and arraigned the imposition of tariffs. He declared it had been the history of nations that once a country adopted tariffs it had "sweat blood" before it could get rid of them.

When the government majority of 380 votes on final passage was announced, members of the house of commons rose to their feet, cheered Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, and waved papers at him.

In a sense it was a family victory since it was his father, Joseph Chamberlain, who a generation ago fought so long and vainly to make Britain a free trade country.

The bill passed on tonight to the house of lords, which will give it first reading tomorrow and pass it through the remainder of the legislative process.

A number of ships raced to the ports during the week just past with goods to unload before the imposition of the tariff. Among them was the Berengaria with a cargo of tinmed goods.

JAPANESE PROTEST SINO-U. S. AVIATORS

SHANGHAI, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Japanese Consul General Mutsu today asked United States Consul General Edwin S. Cunningham to prevent Americans from serving with the Chinese air force.

The Japanese consul's note referred to the death of Robert Short, an American aviator, who was shot down by Japanese hostilities while piloting a Chinese plane.

TOKYO OFFICIAL FLAYS STIMSON ON POLICY STAND

TOKYO, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Secretary of State Stimson displayed "ignorance of the history of the Washington conference" in his open letter yesterday to Senator Borah, in which he asserted that the whole fabric of international understanding in the Far East was threatened by the Japanese hostilities, a high foreign official declared today.

After reading press dispatches quoting portions of the secretary's letter, the official questioned the validity of Colonel Stimson's assumption that the American naval concessions in the Washington treaty were predicated on guarantees embodied in the nine-power pact.

"Japanese military authorities worked today at top speed—and under the protection of censorship—to carry out the cabinet decision to double the army forces at Shanghai. There was no announcement that the Japanese would be sufficiently strong to strike a decisive blow before the Chinese were able to reinforce their line."

General Yoshinori Shirakawa, who has been mentioned as probable high commander at Shanghai, was granted an audience by Emperor Hirohito today. The emperor's audience had been named to a certain important military post.

The foreign office official who commented on the Stimson letter said that the naval agreement actually was continued in Page 6, Column 6.

Day's Developments In Sino-Jap Conflict

By The Associated Press.

Japanese and Chinese airmen battled once at Hangchow, 190 miles southwest of Shanghai, today with Japanese claiming they had shot down two Chinese planes in what was believed to be the first real air battle of the present conflict.

The Japanese bombed the Chinese at Hangchow, where there was thought to be a sizable force.

Shanghai airmen, heartened by their performance yesterday in recovering from a rout and launching a successful counter-attack after the Japanese had smashed the line north of Kiangwan, bombarded Japan's Hongkew strongholds with new spirit today.

Shanghai rumbled to the bombardment as the Japanese answered shell for shell.

Meanwhile the Japanese rushed troops and heavy guns to the north either to safeguard against another burst of fighting by the Chinese or in preparation for another attempt on their own part to crack the line.

Although the Chinese almost lost Shanghai during this campaign to commit themselves in favor of retaining the eighteenth amendment, these leaders, and the general superintendent, F. Scott McNeill, would not answer, he is a prohibitionist. Others defended the

Just How Arid Is Hoover Disturbs Southern Dries

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Claims that "temperance people are not satisfied with the status of affairs" and that President Hoover never has stated definitely that he favors retention of the eighteenth amendment were hurled into the Anti-Saloon League convention here today by M. H. McCormick, retired businessman of Coeburn, Ohio.

The charges brought about a "Down, down, down" from the audience as McCormick asserted officials of the Anti-Saloon League dodged answering the question whether they would ask presidential candidates to take a definite stand on the prohibition question.

McCormick, a winter resident here, rose from his seat as J. N. Wilkinson, of Toronto, Ontario, retired minister of Canada and the United States, was cheered for the statement. Hoover will be re-elected, because, he is a prohibitionist. Others defended the

RALLY CREDITED TO CHIANG UNIT

Ominous Quiet Reigns Over Entire Battle Zone; Even Bombing Planes Stop Rain of Death.

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS.

(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press.)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 25.—(Friday.) Artillery punished first one side, then the other as intense battle went on today in the Kiangwan sector and around Chapei between the Chinese army and the fighters of Japan.

Steadied by their success in recovering from a rout and gaining back by desperate fighting much of the ground that had been lost when the Japanese smashed the line north of Kiangwan, the Chinese turned a vicious artillery bombardment on the Japanese strongholds in Hongkew Park.

Japanese guns answered shell for shell. At dawn they were doing most of the firing, for Chinese ammunition was running low and gunners had orders to use it sparingly.

The two armies battled for hours without advantage to either side. Machine guns kept up an unbroken babble.

Each side said its fire was inflicting heavy casualties upon the enemy while it was suffering slightly. The Japanese said they had suffered less than 100 casualties, but "inflicted thousands upon the Chinese." The Chinese said their losses were negligible and the Japanese were "trying to hide their casualties," estimated by the Chinese at 700 dead and wounded.

A reliable count of the casualties was lacking but it seemed likely under the conditions that the Chinese were suffering heavily.

The Japanese managed to cling to most of their gains of yesterday, excepting Miaochungchen, despite the Chinese counter attack. As a result the Japanese were able to hold the village of Kingchao, a mile northwest of Kiangwan.

Occupation of Miaochungchen, which had been disputed for several days, was completed late Thursday by the Japanese when they broke the line, but the Chinese announced they today had succeeded in clearing the last Japanese out of that village.

The Japanese left flank between Kiangwan and Chapei was under offensive which resulted in slight gains.

The ammunition problem was beginning to worry General Tsi Ting-kai, commander of the Chinese nineteenth route army, who told friends that he had less than a fortnight's supply on hand. He urged that pressure be exerted on the Nanking government to rush men and ammunition

RELIEF NEEDS CITED BY WELFARE SOCIETY

Family Aid Group Reports on 1931 Activities and Picks 1932 Officers.

Atlanta's year of greatest human need, the problems of which were described as taxing every financial and physical resource of the city's social service machinery, was reviewed Thursday afternoon at the annual meeting of the Family Welfare Society.

Report of 4,753 families under care of the society in 1931, more than twice the number on record in previous years, was presented by Miss Rhoda Kaufman, executive secretary, as indication of conditions of disaster which she described as "in its proportions greater than the World War." The Family Welfare Society, the agency of the Community Chest group which performs the great bulk of family service and relief work in line of its regular program, found its work more than doubled in the last year, according to the reports, by having taken over the family relief burden under the program of the emergency relief committee. Mrs. Harry L. Greene, treasurer of the society, reported expenditure of $154,551.70 by the society for direct relief in 1931, of which approximately $91,000 was for unemployment emergency relief. For family service, in addition to direct relief, $48,000 was expended, and the entire cost of administration was only $15,255. Mrs. Greene reported. Of the total of $211,908.70 expended, $117,025.35 came from the regular sources of Chest and public funds, and the remainder from emergency relief funds.

Officers were elected as follows: Dr. Stauffer, who is pastor of the First Christian church, for a second term as president; Fred A. Jordan and J. C. Malone, vice presidents; W. A. Sutherland, treasurer; Miss Kaufman, executive secretary; Miss Kaufman, who formerly was director of the state department of public welfare, has served three months as executive secretary of the Family Welfare Society, succeeding Miss Ada Woolfolk. New members of the board of directors were elected as follows: Turner Jones, W. H. Griffin, Rev. J. M. Walker, Paul H. Jones, Nelson Spratt; those re-elected upon expiration of terms: J. L. McMillin, E. Ralph Paris, Dr. Comer Woodward, Mrs. William E. Huger, Dr. D. Witherspoon Dodge, Mrs. S. E. Boykin. The entire makeup of the board was presented as follows:

Three-year term: Mr. McMillin, Mr. Paris, Dr. Woodward, Mrs. Huger, Dr. Dodge, Mrs. Boykin, Paul Jones, Turner Jones, Mr. Spratt, W. H. Griffin; two years: Mrs. H. L. Greene, Dr. Marx, Roy LeCraw, Mark Pope Jr., Charles M. Marshall, Dr. W. L. Gilbert, B. Graham West, Rev. J. W. Walker; one year: Horace Russell, Dr. W. W. Alexander, Reid Hunter, A. Steve Nance, Herbert Oliver, Mrs. Leonard Haas, R. A. Clark, Mrs. L. J. Elsas, Goodloe Yancey, Edgar Watkins Jr.

ROGERS WILL STAGE CHARITY FOOD SHOW

John W. Gates, nationally known food show director, will be in charge of the food show and home exposition which will be sponsored by the Rogers stores in Atlanta on April 14 to April 22.

The show and exposition, which will be one of the most elaborate and complete ever staged in Atlanta, according to the announcement made Thursday, will be staged in the Palais Peachtree at Peachtree street and Grant place. The large area of this building will be utilized.

Manufacturers of nationally known food products will have exhibits and participate in the show.

There will be various added features, including a baby show, and the proceeds of the exposition will go to charity.

EDWARD K. BAIR, 53, FOUND DEAD IN BED

Edward K. Bair, 53, Edgewood avenue merchant and prominent member of the Baptist church, was found dead in bed Thursday morning, when a member of the family went to wake him. Mr. Bair, who owned a store at 487 Edgewood avenue, resided at 188 Atlanta avenue.

Final rites will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Spring Hill, the Rev. W. M. Albert officiating. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Bair, who had been ill for several months with heart trouble, had been a teacher of a Sunday school class at the Baptist Tabernacle for the last 15 years. He was active in the work of this church and also in the Central Avenue and Third Baptist churches. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary E. Castleberry, of Atlanta.

BRITONS ASK MEETING TO BALK WORLD CRISIS

Sir George Paish Among
Group Seeing Threat of International Bankruptcy.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—An urgent appeal for an international conference to "remove the threat of bankruptcy hanging over the world" was issued today over the signatures of 120 prominent Englishmen.

Among the signers were Sir George Paish and Sir William Beveridge, noted economists, the Archbishop of York and the heads of numerous religious bodies and other organizations.

The manifesto advocates cancellation of war debts and reparations, reduction of armaments and lowering of tariff barriers.

"We make this appeal," it said, "on moral and economic grounds, convinced that until the nations realize their essential unity, no solution of our present problems is possible."

Investigation Report Ready Soon Junior League Officer Announces

By Mrs. Fritz Orr

For the past several months, our several committees, charged with the study of the methods by which Atlanta's 90,000 families are served with food products of all kinds have been faithfully working toward the report which we are pledged to make.

The information is rounding into shape, is being discussed and classified. We cannot yet set an exact date for its completion, but we know now that our report will bring valuable facts to the Atlanta public, concerning the food we eat, its sources, its quality and the methods by which it is brought to us.

We are confident the public will find it as interesting to study, as we have found it interesting to develop.

Girl's Mystery Death Laid to Exposure

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Miss Elsie Flothmeier, whose unclad body was found in a field yesterday after she had been missing 24 hours, died from exposure, Dr. Richard Burke, coroner's physician, announced today after an autopsy.

Police concurred in the finding after an investigation of the circumstances of the 22-year-old girl's death, as did her father, the Rev. Frederick Flothmeier.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Tabor Lutheran church, of which her father was the pastor.

"This girl was subject to mental lapses," said Joseph LeStrange, assistant police superintendent, "I believe she suffered one Tuesday when she disappeared."

Ethel Barrymore Plans Early Debut in Talkies

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Ethel Barrymore, American "First Lady of the Theater," will soon make her talkie debut, she announced today, and added with a twinkle in her eye that "my only fear is the camera."

Miss Barrymore, here in a stage play, said her brothers, Lionel and John, will support her in her first silver screen production.

She said a special story will be the vehicle for her entrance into the "talkies."

Production will not begin until after her present road tour, which closes in June.

Miss Barrymore appeared in several silent films several years ago but never attained "star" rating despite her success on the stage.

THREE MEALS A DAY

KITCHEN TESTED RECIPES
by Sally Saver

The SWEET POTATO—one of our oldest and most typically southern foods—offers such a wide variety in our three meals a day that I am devoting most of my space to it this week. While sweet potatoes are more frequently used as a dinner dish, they are equally fine for luncheons and breakfasts. A strictly southern breakfast dish is sautéed sweet potatoes. Try an appetizing platter of sautéed sweet potatoes, sautéed apples and crisp bacon with coffee and toast as a breakfast treat to the family. You'll find it will help start the day right.

Sweet potatoes are not only indispensable as a vegetable, but delicious made into a number of attractive desserts. Now we even make sweet potato ice cream—and mind you it tastes just like the marmalade cream that is made from expensive imported chestnuts. The red potatoes garnish a meat dish colorfully, and at the same time fill a place in our menu that no other food can.

Despite its sturdy appearance the sweet potato is just as sensitive to decay, bruises and cold as is the orange or tomato. In buying potatoes avoid extremes in size. Clean, bright medium-sized, rather chunky ones are ideal. Sweet potatoes spoil easily, therefore you should buy them in small quantities as you need them—never allowing them to become chilled. It is never practical to buy potatoes to store since they are available anywhere from the last of August until spring.

In some cities they may be obtained any day in the year. Last fall, we had an abundance of new sweet potatoes everywhere in the south. As a food the sweet potato is excellent. It contains more vitamins than the Irish potato, and in addition about 10 per cent sugar.

If it is not cooked properly the delicate flavor of the sweet potato is not developed. The best method of cooking sweet potatoes is by baking—and the longer the better. A potato may be baked in a hot oven about 20 or 30 minutes, but it does not compare in flavor with the one which is kept in the oven an hour and longer. It was the slow cooking that was responsible for the delightful flavor of the potatoes that our grandmothers took from the "potato hills" and baked on the hearth in the old-fashioned oven covered with coals from the wood fire. Try it.

If you have a special sweet potato recipe, won't you please send it to us so we can pass it on?

The following are a few delightful menus featuring sweet potatoes.

Meat Loaf.
One pound ground steak or veal. One cup grated bread crumbs, 2 teaspoons salt. Pepper to taste, 1-2 pound lean pork ground, 3 eggs, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1 cup sweet milk. Mix ingredients with a large spoon. Place two strips of bacon on the bottom of the loaf pan. Pour on it the mixture; shape the loaf and place two strips of bacon on top. Bake in a moderate oven about 45 minutes.

Candied Sweet Potato.
Six medium sized sweet potatoes, 1-4 cup water, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 orange, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup melted butter, 1-2 cup broken pecan meats if desired.

Wash and cook potatoes until tender. Drain, peel, cut in halves lengthwise and arrange in a shallow greased pan. Squeeze juice of 1-2 the orange over the potatoes then sprinkle the pecan meats and arrange the other orange half, cut in thin slices, around the potatoes. Cover with the melted fat and a syrup made by cooking the brown sugar and water for five minutes. Sprinkle with salt and bake one hour in a slow oven—300 degrees—basting frequently. The potatoes should be transparent when done.

Sweet Potato Boulettes.
Six medium sweet potatoes, 1-4 tea-

1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla.
Scald milk, combine cornstarch, salt and sugar and mix with cold water. Add gradually to the milk; cook over hot water 15 minutes, stirring constantly until thickened. Add butter, pour over beaten eggs, return to double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer. Add dates, nuts and vanilla. Serves six.

Sweet Potato Ice Cream.
One cup mashed, strained sweet potatoes; 1-4 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups whipped cream.
Add sugar and vanilla to the mashed potatoes, then the cream, very slowly, in order to make an even mixture. Freeze in an automatic refrigerator.

Coconut-Sweet Potato Pie.
One-fourth pound package shredded coconut, 1-2 cups sugar, 3 eggs, 1 tablespoon flour, 1-2 cups mashed sweet potato, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 cups hot milk, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg.
To the sweet potatoes add milk, beaten egg, coconut and the dry ingredients which have been sifted together. Pour into one large or two small pie pans which have been lined with pastry. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, 45 minutes.

French Fried Onions.
These are delicious with broiled steak or liver and bacon. Slice Bermuda onions in thin pieces, dip in fritter batter and fry the rings in hot, deep fat. Drain on brown paper, dust lightly with salt and use as a garnish for meat.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes.
Select medium-sized smooth potatoes and scrub well with a vegetable brush. Bake in an oven about 250 degrees until they are soft. Cut in halves lengthwise, scoop out insides and mash well. Season with salt, pepper and butter, and a few drops of onion juice, mace and 2 teaspoons finely chopped parsley. Beat well, refill potato shells with mixture. Brush tops with melted butter or beaten egg and brown in oven.

Potato Biscuit.
One cup mashed potatoes, 1 cup flour, 1-2 cup milk, 2-3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter.
Sift dry ingredients. Add these to the mashed cooked potatoes (cold), mixing with a knife. Work the fat into this mixture lightly—add gradually enough milk to make soft dough. Toss onto floured board, pat and roll lightly to 1-3 inch thickness. Cut with a biscuit cutter and place on greased pan. Bake in hot oven for 12 to 13 minutes.

Potato Pancakes.
One egg, 1-2 cup milk, 1 cup mashed potatoes, 1 tablespoon syrup, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup cornmeal.
Beat the eggs—add the milk, syrup, potatoes and the sifted dry ingredients. Bake the cake on a hot greased griddle. If 2 or 3 tablespoons of fat are added, this batter may be used for waffles. They are particularly

SUFFERED FOR FORTY YEARS

Then One Lucky Day She Used Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is great news for sufferers from constipation. Read Mrs. Kendig's voluntary letter:

"For about forty years I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its attending evils. To make it short, I ate nothing but ALL-BRAN and a little broth. Since that time (about ten years ago) I have not taken any medicine. Have been well and entirely free from constipation."

Mrs. I. H. Kendig, R. F. D. No. 2, Lancaster, Penna.

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN furnishes both. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes.

Isn't it much pleasanter to enjoy ALL-BRAN than to risk taking pills and drugs—so often harmful?

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. It is not habit-forming. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Sweet Potato Drop Cookies.

Two cups mashed potatoes, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 cups whole-wheat flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup nutmeg, 1 cup syrup, 1 teaspoon cloves, 3-4 cup butter, 1 cup raisins. Sift the flour, salt, baking powder and spices. Add the sugar, syrup and melted fat to the potatoes, and combine with the flour mixture. Add raisins. Dry by spoonfuls on a slightly greased tin and bake in a moderate oven. This batter may require 1 or 2 cups of milk, but should be quite stiff.

Only Merita can give you the Rich, Appetizing Goodness of "BAKED-IN" FLAVOR

Baked-in Flavor belongs only to Merita. No other loaf can have it. No other bread can be as rich and fine and flavorful.

Put Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread where it belongs—at the top of your marketing list of good things to eat. Its own fresh, flavorful goodness will keep it there ever after.

5 Big Reasons Why It's Better

FINER FLAVOR, baked in every slice from end to end.

SILKIEST TEXTURE, smooth as satin; no large air holes, no coarseness.

KEEPS FRESH longer; Baked-in Flavor stays in.

CRUST more golden and tender than any other loaf.

BAKING-DAY FRESHNESS, baked the day you buy it.

What Baked-in Flavor means

Above is an illustration of what you would see were you to examine a section of the top of an ordinary loaf of bread under the microscope while it was being baked. Here you see the microscope has revealed the large irregular bubbles that allow the flavor to escape and bake out. Much of the flavorful goodness of ordinary bread is thus baked away and the texture of the bread is left coarse and full of holes.

Here is a view of a section of the top of a Merita Baked-in Flavor loaf as it would appear under the microscope while it was being baked. Notice particularly the bubbles. They are much smaller and of more uniform size than those on the ordinary bread above. It is these small bubbles that keep Merita flavor from escaping and give Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread its satin-smooth texture, its "baking day" flavor. It also makes Merita keep longer because the large holes left in the texture of ordinary breads will not retain freshness.

fraud, and waste the taxpayers' money on such a fraudulent basis, would be criminal."

Manget Promises Aid.
John A. Manget, president of the Greater Atlanta Law Enforcement League, original leader of the move to recall Mayor Key, himself was besieged over the telephone by indignant citizens who read their names among those on the petition.

Commenting on the complaints of subterfuge and forgery adopted by canvassers, Mr. Manget explained that the circulators of the petition in many instances were paid workers, and asserted that he stood "willing to assume responsibility" for its circulation.

Particularly outraged were the protestations of second ward citizens. "It looks," said one, "as if somebody had sat down and copied all the

"PETE" SIGNED LIST TO GET "BACK PAY"

Pete Maduros, proprietor of a hat cleaning shop at 20 South Forsyth street, Thursday night explained how he came to sign the petition asking an election on the recall of Mayor James L. Key. "I had cleaned a number of hats for city employees and was tired of waiting for pay for my work," Maduros said. "I went to the city hall. Several of the men who owed me told me that the 1900 had not been paid and unless the citizens recalled Mayor Key they wouldn't get their salaries and as a consequence they put the paper in front of me and told me if I did not sign I wouldn't get paid. So I signed up."

Washington street names right out of the city directory."

Late Thursday night approximately 100 names which are affixed to the original petition had been nullified by withdrawals or charges of forgery. The list, to begin with, bore only 5,171 signatures—174 more than required under law to enable them to put a new election in the city's 13 wards have been published, indications were that the effort to compel another mayoralty election would fail before the remaining names are published.

Norge Officials Are Present At Dealers' Convention Here

Officials of the Norge Corporation, manufacturers of electric refrigerators, attended a meeting of Georgia dealers at the Piedmont hotel on Wednesday. The following officials and dealers are shown above: Left to right, from row, W. E. Edwards and W. D. V. Hopkins, of the Hopkins Equipment Company, distributors, and T. P. Hallock, southeastern division manager of the Norge Corporation, Jacksonville; back row, R. E. Caldwell, merchandising director of the Cramer-Krasselt Company, Milwaukee, and M. G. O'Hara, eastern sales manager of the Norge Corporation, New York. Over 75 Georgia dealers attended the conference.

Officials of the Norge corporation, manufacturers of electric refrigerators, outlined an enlarged newspaper advertising campaign and a comprehensive merchandising plan at a meeting of the Georgia dealers of the Hopkins Equipment Company, state distributors, which was held at the Piedmont hotel on Wednesday.

The meeting ended with a dealers' banquet and entertainment program Wednesday night. Among the prominent officials present were John H. Knapp, vice president and sales director of the Norge corporation, Detroit; M. G. O'Hara, eastern sales manager of Norge, New York; T. P. Hallock, southeastern division manager of Norge, Jacksonville; David Ralston, field engineer, Norge, Detroit; and R. E. Caldwell, merchandising director, the Cramer-Krasselt Company, Milwaukee.

W. D. V. Hopkins, president of the Hopkins Equipment Company, in referring to the meeting and the energy of Fulton county superior court, that the petitions are public records and therefore open for publication, made the list available to the newspapers. As soon as the first drafts of the names hit the street, there were many charges of forgeries and obtaining of signatures under false pretenses. Sixty-two withdrew their names during the afternoon, making a total of 113 who thus far have taken their names from the list and left only 5,171 on the list. It takes 4,997 to force the election.

Withdrawals were being made by citizens from all wards, and Tatum was honoring them despite a warning from attorneys of labor leaders, that since Judge Pomeroy ruled the petition was a public document, it was not subject to alteration and if any alterations were allowed those making them would be subject to prosecution under section 254 of the criminal code of Georgia.

Mayson Upholds Clerk.
City Attorney James L. Mayson held that any person had a right to withdraw his name from the petition through a written request for any reason he desired up until March 2, five days before the next regular meeting of council, March 9.

Key's friends pointed out that the effort to call a special session of council was a last-minute move to bolster the petition, which appeared Thursday to be wilting at such a rapid rate that there would not be enough names left on it to force the election.

Mayson has held that additions can be made and withdrawals made up to March 2. If the special meeting were allowed, it was pointed out that there would arise the question as to the legality of the withdrawal of the names which have been taken from the lists within the past several days.

The petition asking the special council session was filed late Thursday afternoon with the mayor by Alderman John Scott, of the second ward, a high official of the Atlanta Federation of Trades. It contained 21 names, enough under council rules to force Key to call a meeting. If Key failed the law provides that the city clerk must call the session.

Three members of council, whose names appeared on the petition however, were withdrawn, almost simultaneously with the filing, and Key did not issue the call.

Names of the following members of council were affixed to the petition for the special council session: R. E. Bowden, Knight, Marler, Weaver, Scott, Locher, Berman, White, Rantin, Richards, Almond, Rogers, Johnson, Sewright, Aldridge and Smith. (21.)

Marler, Berman and Richards withdrew their names, leaving only 18 on it, two short of a general council majority, which would have forced the meeting.

Judge Pomeroy's decision was made in a suit brought by Albert Gossett, business manager of the local bricklayers' union, and J. A. Harper, vice president of the Federation of Trades, who sought to restrain publication.

When it was first announced that the names would be published, many persons called the city hall saying they were promised that the petition would not be made public and that their names would be kept secret. The injunction was to keep that promise, it was said.

Several Charge Forgeries.
Mrs. C. H. P. Howell, of 206 Central avenue; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Corrie, 911 Capital avenue; H. L. Bellinger, 66 Richardson street; J. B. Bell, manager of the Fairview theater; Mrs. L. P. Holloway, 72 Crumley street; T. H. Sappington, second ward; L. A. Merin, 321 Capital avenue, and L. Wender, of 643 Washington street, were among those who charged that their signatures to the recall were forged, or obtained through misrepresentation.

"I worked to put Mr. Key in his office, and I am working to keep him there," Mrs. Howell said. "I never signed any recall or any other petition concerning the mayor, and if my name has been printed as one of the signers, whoever did that simply forged it, and I would like to find who did it."

Mrs. Holloway's statement was almost a duplicate of the statement made by Mrs. Howell.

"I never saw that petition and did not sign it," she said.

Wender said he had never signed it and would demand his name to be removed from the list.

"The original sheet bearing his signature,"

"My name was forged on the sheet,"

he said. "If it appears there."

"Recall workers came to see us,"

Corrie said, speaking for himself and Mrs. Corrie. "We told them we were not interested. As soon as I saw my name in the papers I called to find out about it and to get it off. I have never seen a recall slip."

L. R. Mendel, 781 Washington street, said that the representatives of the movement for the recall got his name under false pretenses and that he did not sign the petition. "They told my wife they were getting up a census," he said, and declared that tion, and to prosecute who ever did it," Mr. Hartley said. "Two of my neighbors' names were also forged. They are Mrs. W. O. Fowler, of 203 Rawson street, and Miss Barretter, of 270 Rawson street."

B. Stern, of 510 Washington street, declared that his name had also been forged without his knowledge to the petition. He said that representatives of the movement for the recall had asked him to sign and that he had declined. Max Cohen, of 436 Washington street, said his name had been signed to the petition without his knowledge or consent.

J. L. Brown and his wife, Mrs. Mary Brown, of 244 Central avenue, both declared Thursday night that they had not signed the recall petition, and that their names were there without their authority or consent. Mr. Brown said he would move to have his name struck from the petition today.

T. Gesses, 503 Washington street, in the second ward, stated that he had not signed the recall petition and that his name was forged.

M. C. Cohen, 728 Grant street, said he would ask Tatum to remove his name from the list this morning.

"I never signed that petition, and whoever did forged my name," he said. "I would like to know who did it. I shall ask Mr. Tatum this morning to permit its withdrawal and I hope to find the forger."

Mrs. Dora Sunshine, of 643 Washington street, whose name was affixed to the petition, denied having signed the paper, as did her husband's mother, Mrs. H. Sunshine, of the same address. Another second ward citizen who protested use of her name was Mrs. A. N. Shulman.

A. M. Shulman, of 643 Washington street, said that his name was signed to the petition and was not asked to, Mr. Shulman declared.

Women Are "Indignant."
Mrs. M. H. Mannheim, 68 Crumley street, S. W., was another who protested that use of her name on the petition had been unauthorized. Mrs. Mannheim termed her signature a "forgery" and also said that her mother, Mrs. Helen Mandel, of the same address, had never signed a recall petition.

"Several of my friends have telephoned me," Mrs. Mandel said, "expressing their indignation over the unauthorized use of their names. All of them say that the use of their signatures is a forgery."

Max Siegel, 604 Washington street, telephoned to assert that he had never even seen a recall petition and that any such paper bearing his signature was a forgery.

S. H. Kullback, 677 Washington street, notified The Constitution that his name also was placed on the petition without his authority, or that of any member of his family.

"I would never sign such a paper," Mr. Siegel asserted. "I would be glad to sign one to keep Mayor Key, but I wouldn't put my name on the recall."

Mrs. J. L. Paul, of 644 Washington street, S. W., asserted that her name had been affixed to the recall petition without her consent or knowledge. "I did not sign the paper and was not asked to at any time," she said. "I intend to have it withdrawn from the list."

undesirable to repudiate the Washington nine-power treaty, which is a great beacon standing alone in the mazes of Chinese international relations.

"We cannot pretend, however, that this succinct treaty furnished anything like a complete guide to international dealings with China. Had China since the fall of the Manchurian dynasty, ever presented a coherent, responsible front to the world, things might have been different."

"But in the present distracted state of that country, ravaged as it is by the rival ambitions of contending military schemes, the nine-power treaty becomes inadequate. It contemplated some sort of cosmos where there never has really been anything but chaos."

"Therefore, while Japan is fully determined to live up to the provisions of the treaty as far as they go, she feels they do not go very far. Would a new treaty, the product of a new conference like that of Washington, prove any more complete? We cannot help feeling in the kaleidoscope state of affairs in China, that it might produce more harm than good to endeavor to lay down in conference fixed lines of conduct and detailed provisions for their application."

"The defect in the Washington treaty, it seems to me, is that it envisaged China not as it was but as the powers thought it ought to be. This has deprived that instrument of much of its value. To face the facts in the first requisite of statesmanship."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your bowels feeling in your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't talk for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resistant a substitute. 50c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

NEW REVENUE BILL NEAR COMPLETION

Committee Agrees To Hike Taxes on Individ- ual, Corporate Incomes.

BY CECIL B. DICKSON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The new revenue bill, designed to balance the federal budget of 1933 and impose a limited sales tax, is to be completed and ready for house action within a fortnight.

The plans of the democratic-controlled ways and means committee to finish drafting the bill within a week or 10 days were made known today by Speaker Garner.

Although the committee has not formally approved the sales tax plan, he said, it has gone over the potential sources of revenue "with a fine tooth comb" and found that a levy of this

Dry Agent's Taste Held Incompetent on Beer

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 25.—(UP)—A federal prohibition agent's taste was rejected by Federal Judge Thomas Slick as competent evidence of beer's illegality.

His ruling, caused dismissal of a prohibition violation charge against Frank Craig, Mishawaka.

Prohibition agents are not competent to testify by taste alone whether beer is intoxicating, Slick held.

sort is the only means of obtaining all the money the treasury needs. Secretary Mills estimated that $1,241,000,000 more than the present law would be needed in the next fiscal year to operate the government on a non-borrowing basis.

The committee has agreed on increases in individual and corporate income, inheritance and other taxes to raise about $450,000,000.

Garner said that $800,000,000 was needed instead of the $400,000,000 expected to be raised through excise taxes originally recommended by the treasury.

The committee, he explained, is convinced the sales tax is the best means of raising so large a sum.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Radical cures of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID and prescribed it for 1,000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 990 cases, and then decided Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own drugstore with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonard's HEM-ROID has an almost unbelievable record of success right in this city. So why waste time on external treatments or worry about an operation when Jacobs' Drug Stores invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case.—(adv.)

VACUUM SWEEPER KING DIES IN CANTON, OHIO

CANTON, Ohio, Feb. 25.—(AP)—W. H. Hoover, 82, internationally known philanthropist, and founder of the vacuum sweeper company which bears his name, died at his home in Canton today, after a year's illness.

He developed Spangler's sweeper to its present stage and out of it evolved a manufacturing firm employing 12,000 men.

Hoover's philanthropies reached in all directions. His gifts were made to all kinds of schools, churches, and the World's Sunday School Association, the Federal Council of Churches, Tuskegee Institute and numerous others.

He was survived by his wife and two sons, including his alma mater, Mt. Union College in Ohio. Besides his sons, he is survived by his widow and a daughter, Mrs. C. Price. He was a native Ohioan.

"I want to tell you—that red-blood cells are the very foundation of sturdy health"

—worth knowing:

—let's pause a moment to give those vital red cells the consideration they deserve. They mean so much for better health and happiness.

It is not fair to expect one to like work or to enjoy life with a "lowered" blood count.

So often the reason is simple—that good body of ours has "run-down" under the strain of our way of living... pressure of work and worry.

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning... so are pimples, boils and paleness. A general run-down condition means a lack of normal resistance to infection and disease. A lagging appetite often leads to underweight and ill health.

For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Its successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood surely warrants your giving it a good trial.

Why not start taking S.S.S. today?—the larger size represents a price saving.

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength—they lack the power to resist infection and disease or to rebuild flesh and to carry away the impurities. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils.

(Right) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength—they lack the power to resist infection and disease or to rebuild flesh and to carry away the impurities. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils.

Ellis is obtaining treatment for a minor ailment, it was said, and asked that he might be removed to the quieter quarters, but federal authorities refused, stating he was not sick enough to warrant a change from the cell he occupies.

Burglar alarms will be installed at the Bellwood chain gang camp, it was announced at the county public works department Thursday, following the burglary of the commissary department of the camp Wednesday night of approximately $317 worth of supplies, which were carted away while the guards and convicts slept. Probe of the four alleged lotteries which are said to have preyed on hundreds of Atlantans for many months, was still in progress by the Fulton grand jury Thursday. Speeding to the bedside of his wife who lies desperately ill in a hospital in New York, Allen Winslow, pilot on the Caribbean division of Pan-American Airways, with headquarters in Havana, passed through Atlanta last night as a passenger aboard an Eastern Air Transport mail plane. Tyre and his son, Ted Tyre, were arrested early Thursday night by county, city and federal officers in a raid on an apartment at 400 Whitehall street, in which a 200-gallon still was destroyed and 20 gallons of whiskey was confiscated, according to police reports. Tyre and his son occupied the apartment across the hall from the still, and denied any connection with it.

Mrs. Billie C. Wilson, charged with robbery, was found guilty by a jury in the court of Judge E. D. Thomas Thursday. Punishment as for misdemeanor was recommended and she was given a sentence of 12 months. ## CORN SUGAR FEUD TAKES 3 LIVES

Gang Executioners Mow
Down Four in Cleveland;
One Still Lives.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The east side's "bloody corner" was turned into shambles again late today as a gangland execution squad mowed down four men in a renewal of the Porello-Lonardo corn sugar feud.

Raymond and Rosario Porello, members of the fast-vanishing Porello clan which wrested its underworld barony from Big John and Big Joe Lonardo in 1927 in exactly the same manner, were killed outright, riddled with steel-jacketed bullets.

Dominic Mangino died a few minutes after he was struck by the wild fusillade, collapsing in the street, where he had staggered mortally wounded. The fourth victim, Joseph Damonti, fell with bullet wounds in the head and is not expected to live.

The grim counterpart of the execution of the Lonardo brothers three years ago took place in a cigar store where the Porellos and their two friends were engaged in a card game. As terrified onlookers scrambled for safety under tables and behind partitions the three executioners drew automatic pistols from their coats and poured a hail of bullets into the four men.

The massacre leaves but three of the seven Porello brothers left of the once powerful Sicilian clan, which ruled the corn sugar and liquor kingdom on the east side.

In another card room, but a few doors away, one October night in 1927, Big Joe and Big John Lonardo were cut down in a withering gunfire, their place at the head of the underworld industry to be taken later by the Porellos.

His subject will be "Moses as a Statesman." There will be an open discussion and musical entertainment until 12:30 o'clock.

CUTCLIFFE, 2 OTHERS HURT IN CAFE BRAWL

Three participants in a free-for-all fight, one acting the role of peacemaker, were recuperating from wounds received in a battle at Louis' restaurant Thursday morning when Walter Cutcliffe, now under sentence to the federal penitentiary for liquor law violations, and James C. Houser, 31, of the Ansley hotel, and J. W. Brooks, of Decatur, engaged in fistfights, bottle throwing and chair wielding.

Cutcliffe, Houser and Miss Gladys Gray, a waitress at the cafe, who assumed the role of peacemaker and received a twisted shoulder for her efforts, were carried to Grady hospital. Later Cutcliffe, Houser and Brooks, who was uninjured, were carried to police barracks and charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Cutcliffe posted cash bond of $17 and the other participants were given copies of charges with the cases set for trial at 8:30 Thursday morning but Attorney Joe Berman appeared for the defendants with a declaration they were unable because of injuries to be present. Recorder A. W. Callaway granted a postponement of one week.

Cutcliffe's name recently was linked with widespread liquor activities when a raid on the Tenth Street garage revealed records of liquor transactions. He was also said to be the owner of the Lincoln touring car which A. Douglas Poole was driving near Adel on January 10 when it crashed into a lighter car, injuring five of the occupants, two of whom later died.

TALMADGE PERMITTED TO PAY VET SALARIES

Judge Issues Order Allowing Payment of "Lawful Expenses" of Department.

MACON, Ga., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, has been given permission by Judge Malcolm Jones, of Bibb superior court, to pay salaries and "other lawful expenses due and payable to the veterinary department."

Judge Jones told the Macon News today that the newest court order in the department controversy over authority between the commissioner and J. M. Sutton, state veterinarian, was merely advisory and instructing Mr. Talmadge that he was not prohibited from paying these salaries and expenses under Dr. Sutton's injunction. Last week Judge Jones heard attorneys for the commissioner and veterinarian argue demurrers to two court actions by the latter, one restraining the commissioner from interfering with the operations of the veterinarian's office and the other a mandamus to force payment of veterinary salaries by Mr. Talmadge, who had not decided either issue.

It was Mr. Talmadge's contention, in his demurrer to the injunction, that the order restrained him from paying the veterinary division salaries or expenses.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.
TALMADGE DECLARES

Commissioner Talmadge Thursday said that Judge Malcolm Jones' order, signed by Bibb superior court, did not "materially" change the situation which developed when Dr. J. M. Sutton, veterinarian, brought an injunction and mandamus suit.

Talmadge said that he would offer to veterinary employees particularly involved salary checks for the amounts approved by him, but would not sign checks for employees dismissed by him and reinstated by Sutton.

OFFICERS NOMINATED IN BARROW COUNTY

WINDER, Ga., Feb. 25.—In the democratic primary held on Wednesday for the nomination of officers for Barrow county the results were Judge B. C. Hill, for ordinary, defeated Judge W. Parker, former ordinary, and D. L. Doster; H. O. Camp, for sheriff, unopposed; A. T. Harrison, for clerk of superior court, unopposed; L. E. Herdin defeated Dr. P. Adams for tax collector; Muller McElroy defeated Lee Roberts for tax receiver; E. V. Harris defeated W. M. Holsenbeck for county school superintendent; J. C. Ray defeated G. F. Edwards, S. H. Harrison, D. W. Maister and S. C. Potts for treasurer; Dock Hardy defeated Dr. P. Adams for coroner, and J. H. House was unopposed for county surgeon.

In the election for the unexpired term of the late J. M. Blakely, who died about a month ago, the same contestants were entered, who were also running for nomination in the primary, with J. C. Ray the successful candidate in this race.

MAIL THEFT CHARGED TO POSTOFFICE CLERK

MACON, Ga., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Trapped by a "test" letter, placed in the mails when postoffice inspectors suspected his guilt, James E. Moore, 25, clerk at the Macon postoffice, was held in the Bibb county jail today charged with the theft of a letter from the mails.

Moore was arrested shortly after he completed his duties at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Four $1 bills taken from the test letter were found in his possession and he confessed his guilt.

Frank C. Ellis, postoffice inspector, said.

'Student Prince' Is at Erlanger Better, Brighter, Finer Than Ever

"The Student Prince" is with us again and, if impressions are correct, it is better entertainment this time than it was six or seven years ago. If you weren't one of the audience that filled the Erlanger theater—yes, filled the place, not that last night, you can't understand just how enthusiastic your neighbors who were there feel this morning.

It is a delightful sort of a company, a vivacious sort of a performance and a thoroughly colorful production the Messrs. Schubert have sent to Atlanta with this grand old opera. From the moment when Musical Director Bernard Smith tapped his baton for the opening of the overture until the last note died away at the final curtain, the performance last night was one to delight and to thrill in every detail.

Perhaps musical highbrows could find technical fault with the singing now and then, but if so they were all faults that make for more joyful appreciation on the part of you and me, the average listeners. The entire company, principals, support and that great male chorus, sang with a verve and pep that jumped out over the footlights at the start and warmed the cockles of theater-going hearts that have been starved too long for this sort of entertainment.

The keynote of the show was forte—a frolic and a gleeful sort of a time in which everyone on the stage evidently had a whale of an evening and bountifully shared it with everyone on the audience side of the footlights. And, for a show that moves at such a tempo, whole gobs of credit must be given to the man who sets the pitch with his baton, the aforementioned Director Smith.

Getting to the principals, Gertrude Lang, a Kathie so delicious everyone understood why Prince Carl Franz was so wild about her. Her full-throated soprano is just right for the luscious music that Sigmund Romberg wrote, too. Allan Prior is a handsome prince, with a totally adequate voice and an ability to act that is as pleasing as it is rare among musical show heroes. Charles Chesney, as Detlef, led the male student chorus in those grand numbers, the "Drinking Song," the "Serenade," "Gaudemus" and all the rest of them, in voice and vigor that accounted for at least half of the applause and the encores. Tom Ahern as Lucas, Hollis Daveny and Dr. Engel and all the others were equally fine, in proportion.

A special paragraph for George Harrison, who was the original Lutz and who demonstrated last night that there isn't a funnier or cleverer comedian on the boards today. Gus Alexander was fine as Hubert, Edwin Forsberg as the prince's valet, and the chorus men looked fine and helped the good work along with voice and enthusiasm.

It is, to be short, grand entertainment—better than "The Student Prince" has ever been before in Atlanta. It'll prove a grand kick to all who see it, with its vivacious abandon, full houses and general spirit of "what a heck of a good time we're all having," ought to go a long way to restore that feeling of happy confidence that Mister Hoover says will cure all our national ills.

Three more performances—tonight, Saturday matinee and night. Get your tickets promptly and insure your share of the good time the Erlanger has brought this week.

—RALPH T. JONES.

"SUICIDE FLEET" OPENS

CAPITOL RUN TODAY

"Suicide Fleet" one of the most hilarious and thrilling pictures of the part played by the United States navy in the World War, and in which William Boyd, Ginger Rogers, James Gleason and Robert Armstrong play the leading parts, opens at the Capitol today for a week's engagement. "Suicide Fleet" deals with the famous "mystery ship" used by the enemy in the late war, and tells the story of the capture of the ship, its being named by American forces, and how it lures the enemy submarines into a trap, only to be entrapped itself. No one can see the majestic march of the United States navy to the rescue of the beleaguered old three-master, which is a comical and man-of-war, without a thrill of pride over the beauty of the sight.

On the bill also will be a Lloyd Hamilton comedy, a basketball feature and the Universal newsreel, with Graham McNamee broadcasting.

ALABAMA, VIRGINIA CLASH IN OPENER TODAY

BREAK of the DAY
By Ralph McGill

Now that it is decided that there is to be no hardboiled commissioner walking into the Southern conference offices this next fall, the coaches may feel encouraged.

They will gather here today for a look at the tournament of basketballs which gets started at the auditorium. They can sit around and swap lies and wish they could swap tackles for halfbacks or halfbacks for tackles, and enjoy the week-end with more than a modicum of joy.

Fact is, things seem to have taken a turn for the better so far as the coaches are concerned. Most of them are sure of their positions. Some of them have even wrangled improved contracts. And in these times, too, Pop Warner, out at Stanford, has struck the most successful blow, however. One wondered at the story some time ago that Pop Warner was thinking of leaving Stanford. The story is just out.

The trustees wanted to make Stanford a senior university where only juniors and seniors could become educated. The baleful influence of sophomores and freshmen was to be abandoned. Now, each fall there is a moan from coaches with sophomores on his football club. But the moan from coaches without any sophomores or freshmen isn't just a moan. It's a death rattle.

Pop Warner's situation was critical. But the alumni rallied. They did not want football abolished. And so there was a showdown as to who was running Stanford. And it apparently wasn't the trustees. Pop Warner was signed for five years.

THE CRITICAL EYES SHIFT.

In fact the coaches seem to be getting out of the spotlight and the officials are finding themselves "on the spot."

The coaches, of course, virtually admitted that the rabbit punch was taught in football when their representatives voted to abolish the striking of blows by the hands in football.

But the turn seems to be to bring the officials to task for not enforcing the rules. This puts the officials in a fix, as the boys say. On one hand is a group which charges that they are nothing but a lot of whistle blowers who think the people pay money to see them run about in their white pants and blow whistles.

And now comes a serious charge from a committee of coaches and investigators in New York which charges, and brings statistics to prove, that official laxity in enforcing rules was the cause of many football injuries last fall.

The game is a bit over-officiated. It is possible that officials have been a bit lax. In fact, they probably have. But the sentiment has been so strong against inflicting penalties that officials have no doubt been a bit more lax than they would normally be.

It seems to be up to the coaches. The modern game has become so specialized that there are quite a few dodges practiced. Coaches will be forced to teach a game which does not involve tactics which are in themselves injurious. There will always be injuries in football or in any other game involving bodily contact.

But with 3,000,000 football players in action each fall the injury list is relatively small and can be made smaller.

LOTS OF IMPORTANT PEOPLE.

From all one can determine from scanning the list of reservations at the various clubs and inns about the city, there will be quite a clattering of faculty men, coaches and important people here for the tournament.

All the officials and coaches, basketball and football, are scheduled to appear along with their assistants. The football coaches will sit in the stands and laugh cheerfully as the basketball coaches worry.

Major Ralph Sasse, the delightful gentleman whose Army football team beat Notre Dame last fall; Ed Thorp, well-known official and coach whose team won the A. A. U. title here some years ago, and Buck Herzog, famous major league catcher of some years ago and now a traffic agent for the B. & O. railroad, are other who will be present.

TULANE-KENTUCKY.

There is more than just a basketball game on tap today at 4 p. m. when Tulane and Kentucky meet at the auditorium. Dolf Rupp, who coaches Kentucky, and George Rodey, who has taught Tulane's basketball five what they know, both played on the same basketball team at Kansas.

And each would swap off a right leg, or just about so, to beat the other this afternoon. Tulane's chance is a small one. Kentucky is the big favorite in the lower bracket. But the upset chance is very definitely there.

THREE LITTLE WORDS.

A Tennessee man yelled across the street at a Vanderbilt man yesterday and said, "Bob Neyland has signed again with Tennessee."

The Vanderbilt man said three little words. Bob Neyland's name is anathema at Nashville. Vanderbilt hasn't won in years.

Major Neyland signed a new contract with a nice raise when he started making goo goo eyes at Wisconsin.

Mrs. Hoggarth Wins Caddy Soup Kitchens Plan of Chicagoans
In Flagler Tourney

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Playing in alternate showers and sunshine, Mrs. Ernest Hoggarth, veteran tournament player, of Lorain, Ohio, swamped Mrs. R. E. Gleichauf, Rochester, N. Y., and advanced to finals of the west Flagler women's golf tournament by an 8-and-put score.

Mrs. Hoggarth, medalist, took a quick lead in the scheduled 18-hole play and was never headed.

Miss Ella Meyers, Oconomowoc, Wis., runner-up in qualifying play, found little difficulty to defeat Mrs. W. H. Faber, Madison, Ohio, 4 and 2, and to advance to the finals tomorrow.

STRIK, SCHAAF STAKE FUTURES IN GO TONIGHT

Defeat Will Spell Doom to Either Man; Big Crowd Seen.

By Charles W. Dunkley, Associated Press Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The most important heavyweight fight of the new year will be decided in the Chicago stadium tomorrow night when Ernie Stribling, Boston's young knock-out king, engages W. L. (Young) Stribling, the Georgian, in a 10-round bout.

It was a battle that neither could afford to lose. The future of each hinges on the result. The victor will establish himself as a candidate to challenge for the world's heavyweight championship, while the loser will have his drawing power demolished and a new start facing him. Indications were tonight that more than 10,000 spectators would pay $35,000 to see the two ranking heavyweights fight it out.

For months SchAAF has been knocking out standard catchers of the heavyweight division, turning in a record of 20 victories in his last 21 bouts. In Stribling he is encountering the most experienced ring man among the better heavyweights, and a fighter who is ranked fifth in the National Boxing Association ratings, with only Max Schmeling, Jack Sharkey, Mickey Walker and SchAAF ahead of him.

ROAD BACK.

Stribling is fighting to regain the heights again. He got up there once but his quest was blasted after 14 gruelling rounds in a world's championship battle with Schmeling at Cleveland last July. He was stopped in the 15th round. Since then he has knocked out three of his four opponents, but tomorrow night's battle will be his first against a real foe since his encounter with Schmeling.

Both Stribling and SchAAF are determined to win by a knockout. The fight of Jack Sharkey and Johnny Buckley, who manage SchAAF, are confident of a knockout victory. Sharkey, who is matched for a world's championship fight with Sceltie, will be in SchAAF's corner telling him how to do it.

"Pa" Stribling, the father-manager of the Georgian, declares the Striblings and the sold army will be satisfied with nothing less than a knockout; that they need such a victory to rush Young William back into the heavyweight situation again.

BIG BOY.

SchAAF is the biggest of the leading American heavyweights, scaling 208, which will give him almost 20 pounds advantage over Stribling, who comes in at 189 pounds. Stribling disregards SchAAF's margin on the scales, however, as he considers himself superior in speed, boxing ability and ring cunning. Stribling also says he has always been more effective against big men.

Huddled around the ringside will be Colonel Jack Dempsey, the famous old Kentuckyan, once known as the Manassa Mauler; Tuffy Griffiths and Jack Kearns, Dempsey's former manager, who will view the proceedings in the interest of Mickey Walker.

Dempsey Is Sought On Derby Eve Card

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 25.—(AP) Negotiations are under way to sign Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, as one of the principals of the annual Derby eve fight card here May 6.

Dempsey went to Chicago today after receiving a commission as Kentucky colonel from Governor Ruby Laffoon at Frankfort.

Guy Sturdy Signs Pact; Takes Cut

SHERMAN, Texas, Feb. 25.—(AP) Guy Sturdy, of Sherman, the first baseman Houston sold to the New Orleans Pelicans at the close of last season, said today that he had signed his contract with the Southern association club. He took a slight salary cut under his last year's figure.

Board Approves Violet Grid Slate

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The New York University football schedule for 1932, listing eight games, was compared to the nine scheduled and 10 played in 1931, was approved by the board of athletic control. Tennessee was met in a post-season charity game last fall.

Druid Hills Beats Woodbury, 21-20

A rally in the fourth quarter enabled Druid Hills girls to beat Woodbury Hall, 21 to 20, Thursday afternoon on the Druid Hills High court. Trailing 14-5 at the half, Druid Hills came back strong with a fast passing attack and won out a few seconds before the end of the game.

RAIN HOLDS UP NEW SPEED TRY

Weather Permitting, Campbell Will Try To Better Mark Today.

By Jack Tracy, United Press Staff Correspondent.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 25. (UP)—After a heated argument today between Captain Sir Malcolm Campbell and Major E. N. Armstrong of Daytona Beach, the British record holder's proposed attempt to shatter his own automobile speed marks was postponed until tomorrow.

"It's a bloody shame!" shouted the lean, hawk-faced English speedster, pounding upon the hood of his supercar Bluebird, when the mayor positively refused to permit runs today because rains had made the beach hazardous.

"We will not permit you to risk your life on that beach today, and that's all there is to it," the mayor repeated hotly. "Now get out of here as well be nice about it."

GARAGE DEBATE.

The argument occurred in the garage where the 1,500-horsepower Napier Bluebird is housed. Campbell insisted that everything was "right" for the attempt, and that even though the beach was a little heavy it would not stop him from setting new records. But Armstrong was equally insistent that the city of Daytona Beach was responsible for the Britisher's welfare and would permit no daredevil shots.

Campbell implored the city head to let him take the 24-foot racing car down to the beach, at least for a trial run.

"You started on a trial run yesterday," Armstrong retorted, "and made 205 miles an hour. I know how you feel, but there's really nothing we can do about it, but to wait until the beach is in shape—tomorrow."

After the postgame debate had been definitely decided, both men became composed, shook hands, and left the garage smiling.

TEN-MILE MARK.

Sir Malcolm, who was not satisfied with establishing three records Wednesday, had determined to hang up new marks for all distances up to 10 miles today. On Wednesday he stroked over the beach to set following new world times: One mile—253.968 miles an hour, bettering his own record by 8.225; one kilometer—231.340 miles an hour, bettering his own record by 5.254, and five kilometers—241.569 miles an hour, bettering his own record by 25.324.

Tomorrow he will try to shatter records for one mile, one kilometer, five miles, five kilometers, 10 miles and 10 kilometers.

The captain was determined to run today because he plans to ship the Bluebird away Saturday. Moreover, visibility was excellent on the beach and the weather was calm. Strong winds hampered him Wednesday.

He plans to crate his car Saturday and ship it back to London. He will leave Thursday to catch the Berengaria for England, March 4.

Dixie Officials Face Lax Work Charges

Conference Commissioner Plan Is Doomed To Failure at Meeting Here Today.

By Ralph McGill.

The Southern conference program for today, Ladies and Gentlemen, follows.

Football officials, who took a pretty severe rap last week when the national committee scored them for neglect last season and charged them with being indirectly responsible for some of the gridiron injuries, are in for the same rap today in the southern sector.

The charge will be made that they did not enforce the rules generally and that this laxity brought about rough play which caused injuries.

Lou To Head South; Hand Okay

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Lou Gehrig, Babe Ruth's home-run partner, leaves Saturday for the New York Yankee's camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., apparently recovered from a rather dangerous injury no one knew he had.

It leaked out today that Gehrig was struck on the back of his left hand with a pitched ball during the tour of a major league squadron through Japan last fall, and damaged to such an extent that he required hospital treatment in Tokyo.

He said nothing of the hurt when he returned to New York late in December but shortly afterward X-ray examination disclosed the need for further treatment. He said today his hand was normal again.

JENNINGS SIGNS TO MEET ZNOSKI

Steve Znoski, who challenged "Blue Sun" Jennings to a return match after his sensational match with the Indian some weeks ago, has been given his wish. Jennings accepted the challenge yesterday.

The challenge was filed by Znoski Thursday morning by wire. And Jennings answered late in the afternoon, agreeing to the match. It will be held on Wednesday night following the basketball tournament.

A semi-windup will be arranged this week to complete the card.

Wrestling fans liked the London O'Shoeker match Wednesday night, and also the Znoski-Steinborn semi-windup.

Fans criticized the management of the auditorium severely for the carelessness which permitted the lights to be out in a part of the building for about an hour. A check of the lighting system would have prevented it.

U. and A. W. Hobbs, of North Carolina, have reported ready.

The conference meets this morning at 10 o'clock. They will hurry through in order to be ready for the afternoon games in the first day's play of the basketball tournament.

Alpha Class To Play Twin-Bill Saturday

The Alpha class basketball teams will journey to Piedmont, Ala., Saturday night for two games with the Coosa Y. M. C. A. of that city. The girls' game will start at 7:30 o'clock and the boys' game an hour later. Players will leave Wesley Memorial church at 2 o'clock.

TOPPINO ENDS TRIP SATURDAY

Star Seeks To Close Campaign in Blaze of Glory.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Emmett Toppino, who came east a month ago to learn to run indoors and remained to score an unbroken series of victories in scratch competition over the nation's greatest sprinters, hopes to close his campaign in a blaze of glory in the Knights of Columbus meet Saturday night.

Only once since he invaded the board tracks, the metropolitan area has the Loyola University speedster failed to break the tape first. That occurred in a handicap race which he started at scratch.

Among those who have bowed repeatedly to the flashing speed of Toppino in recent weeks are George Simpson, Eddie Toland, Ira Singer, Al Kelly, Carl Wilder, Bernard Kroenke, Ralph Sieckel, William Brader and a dozen other dash stars.

The southern ace, who looms as one of this country's greatest hopes in the Olympic 100 meters, won his first national title in the A. A. U. 60-yard championships Monday night, when he twice equaled the world record of 6:15 seconds. He hit the string a full yard ahead of Tolan in the final dash.

FAVORITE.

Seldom has a track athlete won the affections of New York fans more quickly than Toppino. Only Gene Venzke, the sensational miler, has earned more applause than the fledgling New Orleans youth. His every move was applauded and there was no doubt his victory was popular, even when he beat such home-bred stars as Ira Singer and Ed Siegel.

BACK HOME.

Toppino has finished his college competition. Following Saturday night's appearance, he plans to pack up the collection of trophies he has acquired in the east and return to New Orleans to start practice for the approaching outdoor campaign.

Toppino is one of 10 newly-crowned national indoor champions who will take part in the K. of C. meet, the others are Percy Beard, high hurdles; Gene Venzke, mile run; George Spitz, high jump; Joe McCluskey, two-mile steeplechase; George Leonard, three-mile run; Michael Pecora, mile walk; Dale Letts, 1,000-yard run; Fred Sturdy, pole vault, and Horace Whitney, 300-yard run.

The Alpha class basketball teams will journey to Piedmont, Ala., Saturday night for two games with the Coosa Y. M. C. A. of that city. The girls' game will start at 7:30 o'clock and the boys' game an hour later. Players will leave Wesley Memorial church at 2 o'clock.

JACKETS MEET L. S. U. TO CLOSE OPENING ROUND

First Game Starts at 1 P. M.; Final Battle at 9 P. M.

By Ralph McGill.

While carpenter's hammers beat out their last tattoo Thursday afternoon on the big pine floor at the auditorium, the city's hotel lobbies began to fill with serious-faced young men wearing uniform rolls and basketballs.

The advance guard of the Southern conference basketball tournament began arriving Thursday morning and succeeding station arrivals saw other teams clamor down from Pullmans and take taxis to their hotels. Play begins today at 1 o'clock.

Kentucky, favorite challengers, was first on the scene. Then came the stalwarts from L. S. U., with the giant Torrence looming like the bull elephant in a circus parade. He's big and strong but a great boy. He's just six feet, two inches and about 240 pounds of sophomore steel. When he grows up to be a senior he should be quite large.

Gus Tebell, a former all-American basketball player, brought his clever Virginians in a bit later. Mississippi State, Alabama, Tennessee and others piled in with others arriving during the night. Morning will bring the remainder of the 16 teams, all of whom swing into action today.

These Southern conference tournaments are mercifully quick. Of the 16 who start there will be but eight left tonight when 11 o'clock comes around.

GREAT TEAM.

The tournament committee arranged the schedule so that no team meets a team it has played before. This assures that all teams will be at the peak of competitive spirit for the games today. They cannot be sure, not having tried the issue before, what sort of teams they are to face. Records do not mean so much once the tournament is reached.

Kentucky's game, which won the championship last season, is rated as 40 per cent stronger this year than last. Gus Tebell, Virginia's coach, believes they are that much stronger.

"I am sure that Maryland is 40 per cent stronger," said Tebell. "But this does not mean that they are the greatest team in the country. They are a team that has improved. Kentucky must be that much stronger also and there are other teams with a chance to beat either of them."

Duke is rated as one of the better teams from the South Atlantic section. The surprise factor is that several observers believe Duke to be stronger than either Carolina or Carolina State.

In the southern sector Auburn and Alabama are given the best chances to contest with the favorites from Kentucky and Maryland.

Kentucky's game, which won the championship last season, is rated as 40 per cent stronger this year than last. Gus Tebell, Virginia's coach, believes they are that much stronger.

SCRIBES HERE.

Georgia and Tech occupy spots of interest. Georgia meets Mississippi State at 8 p. m. tonight and will be followed by the Tech-L. S. U. game. Tech, by victory over Georgia in the three-game series, is one of the conference's most interesting teams.

A number of newspapermen are along with the teams. Freddie Russell is here with Vanderbilt to represent his paper, the Nashville Banner. Neale Gunn, of the Lexington Herald, and Browne Leach, of the Lexington Leader, are here with Kentucky. Paul Menton, of the Baltimore Sun, accompanied the Maryland five.

Play begins with the Virginia-Alabama game at 1 p. m. and continues with but a short interlude at dinner, through the Tech-S. U. game, which should be concluded at about 10:30 o'clock.

Tickets have been sealed to new low prices. The agony seats, perhaps the best ones, got at 50 cents. Dress circle seats at $1 and box seats at $2. Season tickets go at the bargain price of $5 and $10. Tickets are on sale at Spaldings and the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Stanley Sutton, veteran of some nine tournaments, will be the chief official. Olney (Bowler) Chest, who worked last season, and F. C. Lane, a newcomer from Cincinnati, will handle the games.

TECH HIGH ADVANCES SAVANNAH

Cadets and Purple Lose First Games

Smithies Lone Atlanta Survivor in G. I. A. A. Championship; Monroe Meets Defeat.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Savannah High school, the defending champions, Tech High, Lanier High and Benedictine survivors of first-round battles in the G. I. A. A. tournament were today as the eight starting teams followed the form sheet rather closely.

The semi-finals tomorrow will find the strongest teams in the conference battling in the upper bracket when Savannah High and Tech High meet, with Lanier High's Poets playing Benedictine in the lower section.

Savannah High lowered the colors of Monroe A. & M., 36-20, in the final night game in spite of the stellar play of Bill Mook, the Aggies' short-coupled little guard. The jackets were extended in the first half, but opened up in the final half.

Benedictine school, which was not mentioned on the form sheet as a particularly strong club, put up a brilliant second-round battle as they eliminated Boys' High of Atlanta, 48-29. The game was the most spectacular of the tournament, the lead changing nine times in the first half as the squads put on one lightning-like dash down the floor after another. Center and Mazon, forward and center of B. C., led the dashing Marion offensive.

Riverside, mentioned before the tournament as an unknown quantity, had nothing with which to stop Tech High and the Atlantans won, 51 to 26. Tech's tall, leisurely playing club was under wraps throughout the game, Pittman, Perkins, Turner, Colman and Evans leading the scoring.

SHUFFLE BOARD.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Feb. 25.—(AP)—The National Shuffle Board Association last night selected this city for its national singles championship matches March 28-29. The present titleholder is Carl Breece, Winter Haven.

JACK SHEEHAN TO LOOK OVER CRACKER HELP

Columbus Men Talk With Roos; Spirit High in Electric City.

By Jimmy Jones.

Dapper Jack Sheehan, as handsome and well dressed as ever, came to Atlanta yesterday with T. G. Reeves, his chief of staff, to confer with Chick Roos on the system by which young Crackers will be distributed to his club this spring.

No players will be turned over to Columbus now, but Sheehan will report with the Cracker squad March 7 and work out with the Atlanta players until he gets ready to open practice at Columbus on the system by which young Crackers will be distributed to his club this spring.

His purpose will be to look over the array of youngsters on the Atlanta roster at close range and take his pick of those who will not be retained. Meanwhile he will be able to get in shape himself as he will be a playing manager.

GOOD PILOT.

Mr. Reeves, who has been closely connected with the revival of baseball in the Electric City, is well pleased at the outlook. He thinks Sheehan will make his club an ideal manager and second-baseman. He pointed out that Columbus was an excellent baseball city, that it drew 75,000 paid admissions one year with a winning club and that with a loser, around 50,000 paid to see games.

He expects the Southeastern league to get along all right with its reorganization plans. He regards Columbus, Montgomery, Macon and Selma as excellent cities and believes Jackson, Miss., and Pensacola, Fla., have backing that will keep them in the league.

Jackson, he pointed out, has been supporting a club in Class D ball in the Cotton States league for a long time and wanted to get in a higher league, hence its application to the Southeastern.

WELL PLEASED.

"We are well pleased with our tie-up with Atlanta," he stated yesterday. He and Roos and Sheehan spent the entire afternoon going over the Atlanta eligible list, discussing players, their salaries and chances for development.

Sheehan revealed that he had only three players signed thus far and counted on Atlanta for most of his reinforcements. They return to Columbus early this morning.

Among routine developments, Chick Roos announced receipt of signed contracts from Amos Martin, infielder, and Andy Messenger, pitcher, the signing of Amos 'n' Andy brought the total of players in the fold to 15.

Ponce de Leon park presents a pretty picture and will be ready when pitchers and catchers report Wednesday.

Mack Refuses Bob's Golf Idea

PORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 25.—(UP)—Lefty Grove, Philadelphia Athletics star pitcher, who is holding out for more money, suggested facetiously today that he and Manager Connie Mack ought to play a game of golf to decide the winner in the holdout impasse.

"If I win," said Grove in one of his rare moods of banter, "then I get the $35,000 contract. If I lose, I sign for what the club offers."

"When Grove and Walberg are in uniform and working out on the field, then they will be known to be signed," Mack said. "I'm not going to give out any more statements."

The A's held their usual morning and afternoon drills today. Roy Mahaffey and Recruit Pitcher Joe Bowman, who arrived yesterday, took part in both sessions. Bowman, a 21-year-old rookie from the Portland Beavers, looks good.

PIRATES.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., Feb. 25.—(UP)—Batting practice and the work of rookie pitchers featured today's training session of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Manager George Gibson and Coach Otis Crandell devoted considerable time to Charlie Wood, sensational hurler who slumped last season. Another pitcher, Jim Crandell, son of the coach, appeared in dark glasses today. It was learned that he had used the wrong medicine as an eye wash, inflicting some minor damage.

GIANTS.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—(UP)—The first injury of the major league baseball training season on the Pacific coast occurred today when Frank Hogan, catcher for the Los Angeles Giants, ran into a concrete grandstand while chasing a foul. He bruised his knee, but probably will be in shape again in a few days.

The Giants indulged in their first practice game of the season, after a week of intense work in fundamentals.

CUBS.

AVAILON, Catalina Island, Feb. 25.—(UP)—A nine-inning game featured the practice of the Chicago Cubs today, with a team captained by Charley Root defeating that of Pat Malone, 12 to 6.

Tinning and Miller, rookies, hurled for the Cubs, while Welch and Herrmann pitched for Malone's nine. The Root sluggers reached Welch for six runs in the first inning, and Root helped along by hitting two triples during the game. Billy Herman, rookie second baseman, got four hits.

PHILLIES.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Feb. 25.—(UP)—Ray Benge, veteran right-hander of Burt Shotton's pitching staff, was among the missing as the Philadelphia Phillies assembled today to start their spring conditioning. The club officials decline to discuss reports he is a holdout.

A roll call found 13 pitchers and four catchers in camp ready for the initial workout tomorrow. A "rainout" kept the players in the hotel discussing the winter's doings.

WHITE SOX.

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, Feb. 25.—(UP)—Leo Fonseca, new manager of the Chicago White Sox, arrived here today with half his squad and was met by the other half, which

FIFTH DISTRICT RESUMES PLAY AT CHAMBLEE

Atlantans in Quarter-Finals Tonight in Court Tourney.

Three Atlanta prep basketball teams will be represented tonight in the quarter-finals of the annual fifth district basketball tournament being played on the Chamblee High court at Chamblee, Ga. Commercial, Russell and Fulton High, all members of the North Georgia interscholastic conference, will be the standard bearers for the city.

Four games will be played on tonight's program, with Commercial and Russell slated to open the activities at 7 o'clock. Fulton and Avondale follow at 7:30 o'clock, with Stone Mountain and Chamblee scheduled for 8:40 o'clock. Palmetto and Clarkston will close the quarter-finals at 9:30 o'clock.

Commercial and Russell drew eyes in the opening round, as did Clarkston, and will see action for the first time tonight.

Particular interest will be centered about the Commercial-Russell, the Fulton-Avondale and the Stone Mountain-Chamblee games in the second round. Chamblee is the defending champion and had the easiest game of the opening round Wednesday with Lithonia, Avondale upset University school and will give Fulton High plenty of trouble tonight.

Semi-final games are scheduled for Saturday night with the finals carried for Monday night. Play Thursday was suspended due to a Washington birthday celebration at Chamblee.

TECH, GEORGIA BOXERS VICTORS

W. and L. and L. S. U. Lead After First Day of Tourney.

UNIVERSITY, Va., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Washington and Lee and Louisiana State University occupied strategic positions in the first day of the Southern conference boxing tournament, although honors of the day went to the University of North Carolina ringmen.

After 26 preliminary bouts 56 boxers from 16 Southern conference institutions remained in competition in the annual first day tournament being held at the University of Virginia.

Boxers were drawn by a number of contestants, included several seeded in their classes, and this resulted in the favorable position tonight for Washington and Lee and Louisiana State.

North Carolina, with four victories today took the lead, while Louisiana State and the University of Mississippi were close behind with three triumphs each. Two victories went to Virginia, Florida, Clemson, Duke, Washington and Lee and North Carolina State, while South Carolina, Georgia and Georgia Tech won one match.

North Carolina, Virginia and Florida were next to Washington and Lee and Louisiana State in the number of survivors with five each.

THE PORTLIGHT

Schaaf and Stribling.

Tonight's battle in Chicago is far more important to Ernie Schaaf than it is to Young Stribling. It isn't likely that Stribling will get another shot at the heavyweight championship, although Jack Sharkey has drawn more than one shot at the big prize.

But Schaaf is now on the way up and, at this moment, the most experienced and the most promising of the younger set. His general average has been consistently high for the last two years. He is big, strong and a good puncher who can take his share. He is much more experienced than most of the challengers now looking for a chance.

A defeat by Stribling would set him back more than a step or two. A victory over Stribling would prove he can meet a fast, skillful boxer who knows all the angles of defense.

Stribling today is only 21, so Schaaf is meeting no worn-out veteran. He is meeting a boxer who can be extremely dangerous if he can get the jump on the other party.

Schaaf believes he is going somewhere in regard to championship dreams, while Stribling's are about over. This should make a difference. And considering Schaaf's ruggedness and his greater aggressiveness, he should be good enough to win.

New Speed. Watching Malcolm Campbell and Barney Oldfield in a conversation tonight, one is reminded how far the automobile has come since Barney's day. Here are the first and the last of the speed maniacs in a big way, and before he is through the British cyclone will leave a mark worth shooting at.

He has gone so far beyond any other competitor that no one is even second.

When it comes to a matter of more than four miles a minute, one is not going along. At Campbell's rate one could move from New York to Philadelphia in about 20 minutes, with all traffic cops barred. But, then what would the traffic cops do about it if Campbell happened to fluster by at this speed?

Dempsey and Hagen. Jack Dempsey and Walter Hagen are parallel cases. About the only thing that can be said about the fight game without stirring up an argument is that the Ol' Manassa Mauler remains the greatest drawing card the game has ever seen, even minus his lethal punch.

And so it is with the once mighty Hail. He is the ageless drawing card of golf. He antedated Gene Sarazen, who carries the biggest galleries in a Jones-less tournament, and holds the admiration of all golf fans while he is having his troubles winning.

Both Dempsey and Hagen, sirs of their strongest weapons, have even more vice-like grips on the imagination of the sports public.

Hagen was talking about his game to a round-table group down in Belmont recently, where he was making his base of operations for the Tampa, St. Petersburg and Belleair open tournaments.

"You don't know how it feels to go out on that course knowing that you'll be inside of your opponent all around the course, and still be losing out on the greens. Now that I can't count on holding putts longer than this table, I've got little chance to win against these hot-pulling youngsters."

When he was asked what explanation he had for the absence of the master touch, which made him the greatest putter of the post-Travis and Graves period, Sir Walter simply said: "Something misses in the co-ordination. When I stroke the ball well it slides off some way."

Hagen was never driving better, nor approaching more brilliantly than he is now. The possibility is that long years of sustained keenness in tournament play have left him a bit stale and, with business affairs to fall back on, lack of great incentive to win also is a consideration.

"I may be able to play in the British open again this year; may have to go across on business," he said. "One sure thing, if I had been putting as I am now, I would never have won at Muirfield in 1929."

Hagen's two rounds of 75 over a windswept course are still regarded by his fellow pros as among the greatest rounds in golf history.

Incidentally, contradicting some of the other golfers, Tommy Armour for one, Hagen does not think the Prince's course at Sandwick, where the British open will be played this spring, is the hardest golf course in the world. It measures well over 7,000 yards. Hagen has played practice rounds there and calls it a great course, but not the hardest.

SENATORS. BILLOXI, Miss., Feb. 25.—(UP)—There are still five contracts to be signed before the official opening of Washington Senators is lined up for baseball training here but they apparently are not worrying President Clark Griffith.

Although he said he had "nothing much to report" with respect to pitcher Bob Burke, self-declared holdout, a telegram from the absent hurler indicated he wants to come to Biloxi and work up a conversation with his boss.

"We will be here," Griffith said, "when he agrees to my terms."

The other non-signers—Joe Judge, Budie Myer, Heinie Manush and Sammy West—are on the verge of signing. Judge, for instance, is not to report until March 6, and all are expected to take their proper places in due time.

CARDINALS. BRADENTON, Fla., Feb. 25.—(UP)—Despite rain that fell intermittently the St. Louis Cardinals went through their usual two workouts fairly early today. The vital business of uncovering another 80 wins is the problem Roger Peckinpaugh must solve in his eighth final pitching selection. Six of them—Ferrell, Hudlin, Brown, Harder, Conally and Jablonski—appear virtual certainties.

Sport Change Is Planned at W. and J.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(UP)—A new athletic policy designed to eliminate "subsidization of athletics" and "loss of financial operation" was announced for Washington and Jefferson College today by the school's president, Ralph C. Hutchison.

The new policy, which is a virtual control of intercollegiate athletics in the hands of the board of trustees and reshaping the entire sports policy, Hutchison spoke frankly of the "evils of the past," but promised a "much better administration of athletics in the future."

Among the changes projected is abolition of the office of graduate manager and the substitution of a director of athletics to be chosen by the trustees.

The practice of granting athletic scholarships will be discontinued, although it was made plain that support of an athletically-inclined student by alumni or friends will not be considered prejudicial to any student.

Football coaches hereafter will not act as instructors in other sports. Intramural athletics will be encouraged with winners meeting intramural victors of other schools.

Three-fourths of the proceeds will be used to purchase clothing for Atlanta's needy of both races, while one-fourth of the proceeds will go for the missionary work of the three negro colleges who took part in the presentation. The distribution of clothing at the relief center is in charge of the Junior League and it was stated on the printed program that the united clothing committee has distributed 10,000 garments and more than 300 pairs of readjusted shoes to the date of the performance. COTTON CARRY-OVER
IS 13,000,000 BALES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—With the planting season for cotton at hand, Chairman Stone of the farm board, said today indications were that August 1 would see a carryover of about 13,000,000 bales.

"This is about four times the ordinary carryover," he said. "Let the cotton farmer draw his own conclusions as to how many acres to plant."

The board has considered the carryover of the carryover in a tall tale before cotton acreage reduction. The acreage was cut about 10 per cent last year, but favorable growing weather resulted in a bumper crop of almost 17,000,000 bales.

Congressional Record To Scoop Newspapers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(UP)—The standard Congressional Record will scoop the nation's most alert newspapers tomorrow.

The record to be published tomorrow morning will contain a report on the Literary Digest prohibition poll which is not released to newspapers until tomorrow afternoon.

HOUSE WET STRATEGY TO FORCE RECORD VOTE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(UP)—The House today launched a strategy to force a record vote on the prohibition amendment.

Taking advantage of the new liberalization of the house anti-prohibitionists filed a petition to compel the judiciary committee to bring out for a vote a resolution to submit an eighth amendment repealer to the states.

The petition was filed by Representative J. Charles Linthicum, democrat, Maryland, chairman of the unofficial "wet bloc." Prohibitionists immediately attempted vainly to prevent a demonstration. Representative Thomas L. Blanton, militant dry democrat from Texas, having come here from Charleston, S. C., to support the petition, was arrested by police.

Representative John J. O'Connor, democrat, New York, attempted to make a brief address.

Previously, Representative H. LaGuardia, republican, New York, a former aviator, rose for a parliamentary inquiry and drew from his pocket a small airplane.

"Come on, boys, let's sign," yelled LaGuardia, waving his arms.

With two hundred signatures, the petition was presented to the speaker, who refused to accept it.

FEDERAL LAW SOUGHT IN KIDNAPING CASE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(UP)—Kidnaping, as a "diabolic modern racket," nationwide in its scope, was described in drama today against the appointment of an advisory committee of 12 Georgia businessmen and bankers for the Atlanta loan agency of the corporation.

From Chicago and St. Louis particularly came the cry of police and citizens for a federal weapon against the "abduction racketeer" who threatens, taunts and makes rendezvous through the United States mails; who transports his victim across state lines to evade justice.

The plea today was before the postal group for a penalty on sending kidnaping letters. Tomorrow the mid-westerners who told of terrorism will go before the house judiciary committee for a federal law against kidnaping persons from state to state.

Colonel Islam Randolph, head of Chicago's "Secret Six," Sergeant Leroy Steffens, of Chicago, and Walter B. Weisburger, president of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, formed the group.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—With the planting season for cotton at hand, Chairman Stone of the farm board, said today indications were that August 1 would see a carryover of about 13,000,000 bales.

"This is about four times the ordinary carryover," he said. "Let the cotton farmer draw his own conclusions as to how many acres to plant."

The board has considered the carryover of the carryover in a tall tale before cotton acreage reduction. The acreage was cut about 10 per cent last year, but favorable growing weather resulted in a bumper crop of almost 17,000,000 bales.

U. S. FINANCE FIRM
GETS $20,603,140 MORE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Additional $20,603,140 in cash was drawn from the treasury on February 23 by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The requisition brought the total spent by the corporation since its organization to $24,440,701.

While it is against the policy of the Reconstruction Corporation to make public information regarding its loans, the largest that have been disclosed thus far were the $20 million loan to the Missouri Pacific railroad.

P. T. Shultz Praised For Design of Home

Phillip T. Shultz, well-known Atlanta architect, received honorable mention Thursday at the opening session of the 47th annual exhibition of the Architectural League of New York for his design of the home of Mrs. J. J. Goodrum, of Pace's Ferry road. It was learned here Thursday night.

The plans for the home, which is of the early nineteenth century or Regency type, were drawn two years ago, Mr. Shultz said. The award at New York was made from photographs of the interior and exterior of the home. Mr. Shultz is a member of the firm of Hertz, Adler & Shultz, of 1330 Candler building.

Czechoslovakia To Let Trotzky Enter Country

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 25.—(UP)—The government will permit Leon Trotsky, exiled leader of the soviet red army, to enter Czechoslovakia for three months, it was learned tonight.

Trotsky, who is now in Turkey, previously had been refused permission to visit almost every country in Europe although he declared he desired only to visit health resorts and receive treatment by specialists.

SENATE COMMITTEE TO PROBE SHORT SALES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(UP)—With the most pressing of its emergency financial legislation out of the way, the senate banking committee is about to plunge deep into the problem of short selling and what, if anything, is to be done about it.

Chairman Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, today set Saturday for the opening of hearings on a handful of "low dog" contracts which curbing or eliminating the practice.

The house has already launched hearings on similar proposals and yesterday heard from Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, a vigorous defense of short selling as essential to the functioning of the exchange.

In announcing that the senate was now ready to tackle the subject, Chairman Norbeck said "it is a problem that we have got to deal with."

'YELLOW DOG' MEASURE
FINDS SENATE SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A general agreement on the desirability of outlawing the much-condemned "yellow dog" labor contract developed during senate debate over anti-injunction legislation today, but there was a sharp difference of opinion on the legality of such action.

The conflict arose from a clause in the Norris bill to restrict the use of injunctions in labor disputes. The provision in question would make the "yellow dog" contract, which forbids membership in labor unions unenforceable in federal courts.

The constitutionality of the clause was questioned by Senator Hebert, republican, Rhode Island, who presented a substitute bill declaring such contracts against public policy and precluding the use of injunctions based upon them, but attempting to make the contracts illegal.

Sensors Borah and Walsh, Montana, Robinson and Norris, author of the bill, took issue with Hebert's contention that the contracts deprived employees by coercion "of the right of free association with their fellows and the exercise of the right of free speech."

Hebert said the contracts deprived employees by coercion "of the right of free association with their fellows and the exercise of the right of free speech."

SELECTS ARMS 'YARDSTICK'

Tardieu Wins Point on Political Commission Proposal.

BY P. I. LIPSEY JR.
GENEVA, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The world disarmament conference unanimously selected a ruler today to measure armaments in its future negotiations, and turned down a Russian plan for general and total disarmament.

The ruler is the draft convention of the preliminary disarmament commission, but the caliber, foot-candle, man power marks, carved in it in 1930 by the pre-conference negotiations, are rather vague and dim.

The resolution to make the draft convention a basis of discussion was adopted on the motion of Sir John Simon, the British delegate, after Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian, had made a long but futile plea for the total armament scrapping plan.

The day was not without a strategic victory for Andre Tardieu, the new French premier, who gained approval of his proposal to appoint a special political commission to deal with security and arming of the League of Nations.

Some observers held that the French international police force idea gained a dominant position in future deliberations through the appointment of the commission.

There was a show of fight when Tardieu first broached his suggestion. He coupled with it a project to set up three commissions on land, naval, and air armaments, to take the place of the League's secretariat's plan to organize the conference into commissions on land, naval, aerial and expenditures questions.

The American, Italian and German delegations objected. The matter was compromised and Tardieu's political commission, but the other delegates won out on organizing the conference into commissions as proposed by the secretariat.

Since Tardieu had no objection to the draft convention and also won his security point, chief negotiator, he agreed that when he boarded a train for Paris tonight for a brief stay he carried in his satchel a couple of documents that represented victory.

CHINESE REPULSE JAPANESE DRIVE

in view of the impending arrival of Japanese reinforcements.

The Chinese were depending chiefly on machine guns.

After several hours of fighting a startling quiet came over the Kiangwan front at 9:30 p. m. today.

The Japanese heavy artillery ceased to function while the machine gunners on both sides allowed their weapons to cool.

What began as another day of strenuous hostilities thus suddenly switched into one of comparative calm. Both sides apparently were licking the wounds from the past 24 hours of unceasing conflict.

As the hostilities slackened, the Japanese appeared to have achieved an advance northwest of Kiangwan, but they had failed to rout the Chinese and more fighting seemed inevitable.

The Japanese were stalling for time while awaiting reinforcements which were thought to be near, although the second day's fighting showed that reinforcements were not coming.

What would happen tomorrow he decided to ask. But certainly reinforcements were not coming in along the Whangpoo river from Shanghai to Woosung this morning.

A few Japanese airplanes continued to reconnoiter over the Kiangwan and Chienju areas, the latter the seat of Chinese headquarters, but did not drop bombs. Other Japanese fliers were active somewhere. A large number of planes left the air field and disappeared in the morning mist.

The Japanese fliers were rushing to the north either in preparation for another attempt to take Kiangwan or as a safeguard against the Chinese, who had demonstrated that they were sufficiently well disciplined to reform their organization had been broken and to put on a successful counter-attack.

Hold Kiangwan.
The Chinese held Kiangwan this morning, although it almost fell from their grasp in yesterday's fighting.

Just Thursday afternoon the Japanese succeeded in seizing the Chinese first line to the northwest of the village. Their whirlwind attack, made while the Chinese were still in the second line and while 40 Japanese planes were dropping 250-pound bombs on support units, swept well to the west and passed the village of Miaohungchen.

At this juncture of the battle the small Chinese garrison at Kiangwan was in imminent danger of falling. Communication to the rear was almost severed and the Japanese artillery was firing actively. The Chinese, it seemed impossible to move up supports.

The salient in the otherwise straight Shanghai-Woosung line, already two miles deep when the action started, bulged an additional 600 yards to the west when the Japanese assault reached its high point.

Retreat Reported.
The Japanese announced that they had completely broken down the Chinese first line and that the Chinese troops were in a disorderly and panic retreat.

But in their belief of victory, they pushed forward their artillery to new positions, thereby putting the guns within easier range of the Chinese supports.

But just as they prepared to make another assault, which they believed would weaken the Chinese rear and make it impossible for the Kiangwan garrison to hold out any longer, the Chinese swarmed out of their trenches for a surprise counter attack.

Apparently reinforcements somehow had been brought up despite every effort by the Japanese artillery and air bombers to drop a curtain of explosives sufficiently destructive to prevent any troop movement.

It was reported that these reinforcements were fresh men of the 88th division of Chiang Kai-shek, whose national guard units are looked upon as the best troops in China.

Ground Recovered.
The counter attack swept over shell-torn ground and at many places along the front the Chinese reached the very trenches from which they had

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(AP)—

—The interest in today's bond market centered in United States government issues, most of which moved to moderately higher levels.

Corporate mortgages continued their lethargic trend. Prices generally changed but fractionally. However, the averages were slightly above those of yesterday. Sales totaled only $8,020,000.

Liberty loans although registering gains, closed under their top prices. One of the treasury's suggested slightly below closing quotations.

Strength was given to the government section by reports that the federal reserve bank had discounted rate would be lowered.

Railroad loans ebbed and flowed. There was a small flurry of buying near the close and the average for the day was slightly higher.

Foreign bonds had a mixed trend. Dutch East India had a higher, British 5 1/2s eased and Japanese government issues were weak.

TARZAN AND THE ANT MEN No. 29

With profound amazement Tarzan of the Apes beheld the Alalus woman surrounded by a horde of diminutive men—tiny white warriors—mounted upon what appeared to be a forest of the royal antelope of the West Coast. Armed with lances and swords, they repeatedly charged at the huge legs of the Alalus. She was backing away swiftly toward the forest, kicking vigorously at her assailants and striking at them with her heavy bluegown. It quickly became evident to Tarzan that they were attempting to hamstring her and that had they been successful they might easily have slain her then.

He watched them hurl themselves upon almost certain death in their stubborn efforts to bring down the female. Then he saw what must be the reason for the mad sacrifice of life. In her left hand the Alalus clutched one of the tiny warriors. It was to rescue him, evidently, that the others were struggling. Second only to his admiration of the warriors was Tarzan's amazement at their courage and agile mounts. He had believed the royal antelope, the smallest member of its family, to be the most timid of creatures; but not so these cousins of theirs.

Slightly larger, standing perhaps fifteen inches at the withers, they were in all other outward respects identical. Yet at the guidance of their riders they leaped fearlessly into close range of those enormous feet and the great, slashing bluegown. Perfectly reined were they, too. In and out they bounded, scarcely touching the ground before they were out of harm's way again. Ten or a dozen feet they covered at a leap so that Tarzan not only wondered at their agility but at the almost marvelous riding of the warriors.
